II. Motion to approve the University Senate Meeting Minutes of the March 18th Senate meeting.

III. Report

SACC did not meet last month. We sent 2 emails and received no response. We will contact again.

In conversations with Administration outside of SACC we raised the issue that recent Emeritus Professors have had difficulty receiving the privileges they are entitled to as recipients of the honor and received assurances that they would be taken care of.

We also reminded the administration of the need to add the nameplates to the faculty and staff memorial at Raines Plaza. This was something we agreed to at SACC over the winter and we agreed to wait until better temperatures to hold some type of memorial event. Assuming, of course, the world isn't ending, the better weather should be here soon.

We also noted that in the search for a new VP of Student Affairs currently underway, a member from the Senate should have been included in the search committee and was not. We were assured it was an unintentional oversight rather than a deliberate slight.

Finally, the Provost's office asked for Senate involvement on 2 issues that I sent to C&I:

1. a process for reanimating programs that were put on hiatus and
2. a policy regarding the number of online courses incoming first year students may take in any given semester.

Once again, I want to express my appreciation to the Administration for the commitment to shared governance, the hiccup with the search committee notwithstanding. I have little difficulty imagining other conditions in which these decisions would have been made without Senate consultation.
